'The King and I' Tickets Go on Sale

Tickets for the forthcoming El Camino College production of "The King and I" go on sale in the college book store today. Scheduled for 8:30 p.m. performance on May 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, 11 and 12, the popular musical will also be staged in two special matinee performances on Saturday May 5 and May 12 at 2:30 p.m. Price for reserved seats for the evening performances will be $1.50. Child's matinee tickets will be available for 50 cents.

TELEPHONE orders for tickets will be held for 24 hours, during which time patrons may either call for tickets in person or remit a check payable to El Camino College in care of the student store, covering the price of the seats. Mail orders for tickets will be accepted if accompanied by payment in full. Hamilton M. Maddaford, assistant director of student personnel, announced. "Tickets ordered before one week prior to the date of performance will be returned to the customer by mail if a self-addressed envelope is enclosed," he said.

MADDAFORD noted that other paid reservations, received by mail less than one week prior to performance date, will be held at the box office. The college official re-emphasized that checks should be made payable to "El Camino College" and orders mailed to the Student Store, El Camino College, El Camino College, Calif.

Because sell-outs for all performances are anticipated well in advance of the showings, music enthusiasts are advised to purchase tickets early.

Three Local Men Elevated In Bank of America Posts

Bank of America has moved three local men up its promotion ladder this week, it was announced by William J. Breen, vice president in charge of personal relations for the bank's Southern California division.

John W. Baldock of 4255 W. 182nd St., has been named operations officer at the Sepulveda-Hawthorne branch; Robert G. Stroud, 21241 S. Doble Ave., has been promoted to assistant cashier in the administrative operations department at Los Angeles Headquarters; and C. H. Milner has been assigned as assistant cashier in the operations section of the Torrance branch, succeeding Baldock. Baldock began his banking career in 1957 as a teller at a Los Angeles branch and was later selected for an intensive Bank of America management training program. Upon its completion, he was appointed a junior officer in the operations section of the Hawthorne branch. He was assigned to the Torrance branch in 1960.

BORN IN LONDON, England, he received his education there and has since attended the American Institute of Banking, educational wing of the American Bankers Association.

Before coming to this country in 1957, Baldock served for two years in the Royal Army Pay Corps of the British Army at the War Office in London. He was a corporal when discharged.

He and his wife, Fran, enjoy bowling during their leisure hours.

Stroud joined the statewide bank at the Alhambra branch in 1954 and worked his way up the promotion ladder to a junior officer position in 1958. He was chief clerk at a Los Angeles branch before his present assignment.

A NATIVE of Missouri, Stroud came to California as a youth and was graduated from Monrovia High School and attended Pasadena City College. He has also earned a certificate from the American Institute of Banking.

His main hobby is photography and home movies. He has also been active in the Quarters, a Bank of America public speaking group.

During the Korean conflict Stroud served in the Army's

First Cavalry Division in Korea and Japan. He was a sergeant when discharged.

His wife, LaVon, is also a bank employee. She has been with the bank nine years and is now working at a San Pedro branch. They have two children, Sherry, 8, and Jimmy, 3.

MILNER started his banking career as a teller in Long Beach in 1955. Two years ago, he completed an intensive officer training program. He was specially selected for this program when he demonstrated an aptitude for accelerated advanced management training. He has been a junior officer at the First and Pine branch since its completion.

Born in Sioux City, Iowa, he was graduated from high school there and has since earned a certificate from the American Institute of Banking. Before joining Bank of America, Milner worked as a reporter on five newspapers throughout the north central United States.

HE IS A member of the board of governors of the Harbor chapter of the American Institute of Banking and active in the Elks Lodge and Long Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During his spare time, Milner collects and trades stamps, and his wife, Grace, is active in local recreation center women's club. They have two children Cheryl Rae, 12, and Chuck, 10.

Keeping Good Records Needed for Tax Facts

The taxpayer who keeps good records will find it easier to justify his 1961 Federal income tax return when he questions it, Donald A. Thulin, of the San Pedro Internal Revenue office said today.

All individual records should be retained for at least three preceding tax years after the return is filed.

Please do not mail your records with your 1961 return, Thulin added. Keep them available to substantiate any items which may be questioned on your return.
